The JOURNAL OF LAW, TECHNOLOGY & THE INTERNET (“JOLTI”) is published by the students of Case Western Reserve University School of Law. The views expressed in this issue are those of the authors and do not necessarily reflect the views of JOLTI, its Editors and Staff, or the Case Western Reserve University School of Law.

JOLTI welcomes submissions of original articles. Possible topical areas include: patent law, copyright law, trademark law, cyber law, telecommunications law, and law regulating nascent technologies. JOLTI conforms to THE BLUEBOOK: A UNIFORM SYSTEM OF CITATION (19th ed. 2010). The JOLTI Executive Board will consider submissions for publication. The Executive Board regrets that it cannot return submissions to authors unless a self-addressed stamped envelope accompanies the manuscript. Correspondence and manuscripts should be sent to:

PREFACE

Students created the JOURNAL OF LAW, TECHNOLOGY & THE INTERNET to provide academics, practitioners, and students with a forum to discuss topics relating to technology and the law. The JOURNAL OF LAW, TECHNOLOGY & THE INTERNET also provides its student editors with rigorous academic research and writing experience that exposes them to a wide variety of topics; the breadth of our subject matter is tremendous, ranging from scientific and social to commercial and political, on scales from the subatomic to the universal.

Furthermore, articles published in JOLTI are peer-reviewed. Our peer-review process is used to ensure quality, accuracy, and that all our articles meaningfully advance legal scholarship. We also thank the entire Case Western Reserve School of Law community, especially the Center for Law, Technology & the Arts and Professor Raymond Ku, Professor Craig Nard, Professor Jacqueline Lipton, and Professor Irina Manta.
