NAFTA AND THE ENVIRONMENT: AN UPDATE

Introduction – Henry T. King, Jr.

Our session this noon is entitled “NAFTA and the Environment: An Update.” Our speaker, conveniently, is Janine Ferretti, the Executive Director of the North American Commission for Environmental Cooperation.

She has worked on environmental issues for the past eighteen years and is working closely with government, industry and NGOs. She has been Executive Director of Pollution Probe, one of Canada’s largest environmental organizations. Ms. Ferretti is a member of Canada’s International Trade Advisory Committee, Vice Chair of the Ontario Round Table, and a member of the Institute for Sustainable Development Task Force on Environment and Trade. She has had a deep involvement with environmental issues from all sides; it is an honor and a pleasure to present Janine Ferretti to you this afternoon. Janine, the floor is yours.
