Dedication

I am deeply grateful for the incredible patience and longsuffering endured by my family during this interlude in our lives that we think of affectionately as law school; but especially during the preparations and production schedule for both the Canada United States Law Institute's Conference, and of the Canada-U.S. Law Journal. Without the loving support of my wife Mona, and my beautiful children Kaela and Stephen, I could not have completed all that I have. Also, I dedicate all of the good things that I do to the memory of my father, David John Knight, and my mother, Carolyn Perry Knight.

Acknowledgments

I want to thank Aryeh Dori for his hard work on the year 2000 conference, as well as many thanks to Dan Ujczko for his support and assistance. Carolyn Speaker, Jennifer Mayton, Rob Chaloupka, Dan Ujczko, Patricia Hunt, Julianna Herrick, and Teresa Carr have all been invaluable in the production of this journal; it could not have been accomplished without them. Lastly, I want to thank Professor Henry King, without whom, a great dialogue between Canada and the United States would suffer greatly.
