The Case Western Reserve Journal of International Law is published two to three times a year at the Case Western Reserve University School of Law. Current subscription prices are $20.00 per volume (domestic) and $22.00 (foreign). Subscriptions are renewed automatically unless timely notice of cancellation is received. Current issues can be purchased at $10.00 each by contacting the Journal directly. The Journal is indexed in the Index to Legal Periodicals. All notifications of change of address should include both old and new addresses with ZIP codes. The Journal's policy requires that unless a claim for nonreceipt of a journal is received within three months after the mailing date, the Journal cannot be held responsible for supplying that issue without charge. Address all correspondence to the Case Western Reserve Journal of International Law, 11075 East Blvd., Cleveland, Ohio 44106. Telephone: (216) 368-3291. The Journal may also be contacted via electronic mail on the internet at JIL@CWRU.BITNET.

The Journal solicits articles on preselected themes within the broad area of international and comparative law. Themes for 1990-91 include International Family Law, Environmental Law, and The Southern Pacific Rim in the International Context. Unsolicited articles within the preselected themes and student contributions on any international or comparative law topic are welcomed. The article should be timely and provide more than just a summary of the current literature. Analysis should be thorough and original. Contributing authors are required to submit three copies of the manuscript. Unpublished manuscripts will not be returned to the author unless requested.

Articles should be concisely written, scholarly, and articulate. The introduction should contain a clear statement of the thesis. Descriptive material should be limited to the necessary background information. The body of the text should follow a logical progression to the conclusion. Use of direct quotations should be kept to a minimum.

All major points must be substantiated by reference to at least one authoritative source. Sources relied on should be recent and sufficient to indicate a thorough coverage of the topic. Overdependence on a few sources should be avoided.

Authors should cite only to authorities which they have personally consulted. All citations should be contained in the footnotes. Footnotes may also elaborate on points raised in the text. Research sources which support points peripheral or contrary to those discussed in the text should be included and clearly noted.

Footnotes should conform to the Harvard UNIFORM SYSTEM OF CITATION, and should be up-to-date when submitted. THE GOVERNMENT PRINTING OFFICE STYLE MANUAL should be consulted for matters of style not covered in the Harvard Citator. The Editor reserves the right to transfer some textual material to the footnotes or vice versa. Useful research sources discovered by the Editor may be inserted with the permission of the author.

Articles should be typed, triple-spaced with a two-inch left-hand margin. The text should be broken down into appropriate headings and subheadings. Footnotes should be numbered consecutively.

The opinions expressed herein are those of the respective authors and do not necessarily reflect those of the Case Western Reserve Journal of International Law.

The Journal is printed by Joe Christensen, Inc., 1540 Adams Street, Lincoln, Nebraska 68521.

Cover design by Joan U. Smeltzer.

NOTICE: Subscriptions are renewed automatically unless timely notice of cancellation is received.

CORRECTION

Please note the following correction on page 18 of Volume 22:1. Footnote 100 should cite to the Wall Street Journal, not the New York Times. The Journal apologizes for this mistake and for any confusion it may have caused.
