his heartfelt singing of those ballads often blesses my kitchen and moves me to dance when no one is watching. One of those songs is “Love Is Here to Stay,” its music and lyrics written by George Gershwin and his brother Ira. As reflected in the song’s refrain, Ted’s love for Pat—and us—is here to stay:

> It’s very clear our love is here to stay, not for a year but ever and a day.

> In time the Rockies may crumble, Gibraltar may tumble, they’re only made of clay, but our love is here to stay.

> It’s very clear our love is here to stay, not for a year but ever and a day.\(^{14}\)

As the Hebrew proverb puts it, “Say not in grief ‘[Ted] is no more’ but live in thankfulness that he was.” And I add, “Let’s live in thankfulness that he is.”

Finally, to borrow lyrics from another ballad, “[w]hen the world is cold, I will feel a glow just”\(^{15}\) remembering Ted Mearns.

truly matters in this life to everything he has done as a teacher, colleague, and administrator. He joined us in 1974 after a distinguished career at the University of Virginia, Northwestern University, and the University of Cincinnati, where he served as dean of the college of law. In addition to his academic pursuits, he has always understood and been engaged with the public responsibilities of the legal profession. For example, he worked to promote school desegregation in Virginia during the era of Massive Resistance in the 1950s and ‘60s and in Cleveland during the 1970s and ‘80s. Most recently he has focused on efforts to promote constitutionalism and the rule of law in the newly emerging democracies.

Ted Mearns has made this university and this law school a better place, and all of us better people. His colleagues on the Faculty of Law enthusiastically recommend that he be appointed Professor Emeritus of Law in recognition of his dedication to our institution.
